

Pineville Today

New Beginnings

What's Happening...

Happy New Year! We are now working in the new building on the second floor. We held the grand opening of the new Town Hall and the new Pineville Branch of the Mecklenburg Library in December. In addition to the Town Hall staff, the library staff are excited to serve the residents of Pineville and surrounding communities!

In the New Year I am going to start holding "Town Hall" meetings in the council chambers. This will be a time for citizens to come and ask me questions. From time to time, there will be specific topics, but I am encouraging all questions. They will be held every three months, beginning in January from 6:00pm - 7:30pm (January 19th, April 20th, July 20th, and October 19th).

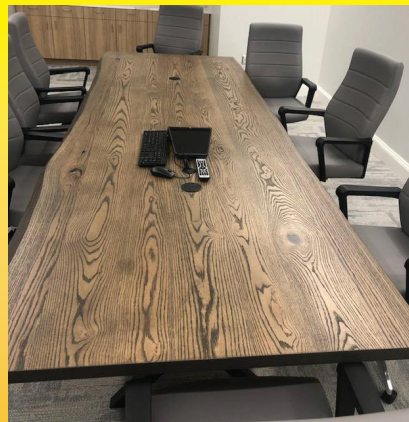

Below are some "Fun Facts" about our building that we thought you'd enjoy. The Town also saved a hundred-year-old tree during construction. This was crafted into a beautiful conference table by Carolina Urban Lumber, located in Pineville. Carolina Urban Lumber builds locally from mostly local upcycled trees.

Thank you for being a part of our great community. You are what makes Pineville a special place to live, work, and enjoy. We are here to provide you great services and are looking forward to seeing you in the new year. Wishing you and your families a Happy and Healthy Holiday and New Year!

Town Manager
Ryan Spitzer

ELECTRICITIES EMPLOYEES ASSIST IN BUCKET RESCUE

On Friday, October 21, 2022, a tree contractor employee had been working at an elevated position in a bucket truck behind an apartment building, when his truck became disabled, leaving him stranded 45 feet in the air. At 2:45 pm, Pineville Fire Chief, Mike Gerin, called Electricities in Pineville requesting the assistance of their employees to bring a bucket truck to reach the victim. Electricities is the managing agent for the Town of Pineville's electric system. Crew Leader Brandon Guin, and Apprentice Lineworker II David Carlos, jumped in their 60-foot, two-man bucket truck and responded to the scene.

After assessing the situation, they were able to position their truck close enough to reach and rescue the victim. Electric Systems Manager, David Lucore, stated, "We are honored to be able to assist in the rescue of this person who was stranded at an elevated position. The ability to respond quickly reinforces the value of Public Power in Pineville and many other towns across North Carolina. Having local workers ready to respond to emergencies like this are an added value to the communities we serve. The Charlotte and Pineville Fire departments had responded to the distress call and attempted to rescue the stranded man with their ladder trucks but were unable to reach him.

WATER NEWS

Did you know that sediment is the #1 pollutant in Mecklenburg County? Sediment is loose sand, silt, clay, and other particles. When it rains, sediment can flow into storm drains which lead directly to our waterways.

Increased sediment in creeks causes waters to be very turbid, meaning muddy and unclear, which gives the water an orange/brown color. Unfortunately, it can destroy aquatic habitats and smother fish eggs and bottom dwelling organisms. Sediment can come from eroding stream banks and is often seen running off of construction sites without proper erosion control measure and areas with loose dirt. It's important to CALL 311 to report if you see:

- Sediment running off a construction site
- muddy/orange creeks when it has not rained

If you would like to find other ways to keep our waterways clean, volunteer with us! Visit us at <https://charlottenc.gov/StormWater/Volunteer/Pages/default.aspx>

PINEVILLE HAS THE BEST COMMUNITY PARTNERS

10/20/2022

Officer Down sees and gets out with this homeless gentleman at Tower Place this morning. Officer Down develops a good rapport and talks the gentlemen into meeting him later to discuss resources he can tap into.

Officer Down arranges a meeting between the gentleman and Melissa Zhiss, from Behavioral Health, and they meet in downtown Pineville. It was discovered that this gentleman is able to receive money/benefits and Melissa Zhiss provided him a cell phone so she can stay in touch with him.

Officer Down arranges a haircut for this gentleman because it has been a really long time since he has received one. Slicers Barbershop on Main Street, Pineville, offered a free haircut for this gentleman.

What a great day and great accomplishment! We are so proud of all our Pineville Police Officers, and really appreciate our community partners who are so willing to help! Thank you, Slicers!!!
