Town Manager's Minute

Happy New Year!

As we step into a new year, it's a great time to reflect on the progress we've made and look ahead to what's next. Thanks to strong teamwork and dedication across departments, this past year brought several major projects from planning to completion, tangible improvements that will benefit our community for years to come.

We are proud to share that we completed the Johnston Road Realignment, significantly improving safety, traffic flow, and access in our downtown area while adding valuable parking. We also completed the Greenway expansion at McCullough, marking an important milestone in expanding the Town's locally funded greenway system and strengthening connections between parks and neighborhoods. Additionally, a new playground at Lakeview Park was completed, providing an updated and engaging recreational space for families and children. Finally, we completed our second collaborative downtown mural, helping to support local businesses by enhancing visibility and creating a more vibrant, welcoming experience for shoppers.

Looking ahead, construction on the new Fire Department is well underway and is expected to be completed this spring. This state-of-the-art facility will strengthen public safety and serve Pineville for generations to come. At the same time, we will continue our downtown revitalization efforts, focused on enhancing economic development, supporting local businesses, and creating a vibrant, welcoming downtown experience.

As we move forward, our priorities remain clear and focused. We are committed to strengthening connectivity across our community- from infrastructure and parks to communication and community events, so people, places, and opportunities are more connected than ever. At the same time, we will continue to support downtown economic development by integrating Town events with our downtown through the social district and enhancing marketing efforts to promote downtown businesses and amenities.

The new year represents opportunity, growth, and momentum. Pineville is truly a great place to live, work, and play, and that is a direct result of the dedication of our employees and the continued investment in our community. Thank you for all that you do; here's to another successful and impactful year ahead!

Town History Brief

Pineville, founded in 1873 and named for its abundant pines, originally served as a mule trading center at key Indian trade routes.

It was known as Morrow's Turnout and later became a stagecoach stop and railroad hub with the arrival of the Charlotte & Columbia Railroad in 1852, prompting its name change to Pineville. It is the birthplace of President James K. Polk, and while his original home no longer stands, a cabin from that era is preserved alongside other historic buildings.

In the 1880s and 1890s, Pineville thrived as an agricultural and textile center with the Dover Yarn Mill, later Cone Mill, employing over 200 people by 1902. By 1903, its population reached 700, making it the largest town in Mecklenburg County outside Charlotte.

From Street to Stream: Where Rainwater in Mecklenburg County Flows

Every drop of water that hits our streets has a destination, and that destination is often a stream that winds through our neighborhoods, parks, and natural spaces. That water then enters storm drains the grates you see on roadsides or in parking lots. From there, it's funneled directly into our streams. When rain or melted snow doesn't soak into the ground, it flows over rooftops, driveways, streets, and parking lots picking up pollutants along the way. Anything that flows with rainwater into storm drains goes directly into creeks near you.

The water that runs off your driveway, lawn, or street goes straight into our local streams without any treatment. Oil, litter, pet waste, sediment, and yard chemicals are a few examples of pollutants that can get washed into streams. Every day we had an opportunity to make our community a better place. Clearing storm drains before a rain event, disposing of pet waste in the trash, and planting native species in your yard can all protect water quality in your community.

Together we can protect those waters for ourselves, our wildlife, and future generations. For more information about our Adopt a Drain program, Volunteer Storm Drain Marking initiative, or to learn more about how you can prevent stormwater pollution, please visit our website (<https://www.charlottenc.gov/Services/Stormwater>).

Rev. Amelia Stinson-Wesley served six years on Town Council. She is serving her first year as Mayor. She previously served as the District 6 representative (Pineville, Matthews, Mint Hill, south Charlotte) on the Charlotte-Mecklenburg School Board. She and her husband have lived in Pineville for 18 years. Their children attended Pineville Elementary and graduated from CMS schools. She is the senior pastor of Memorial United Methodist Church in east Charlotte and has served on the Town Parks and Rec Advisory Board, the Airport Community Roundtable, and the Polk Site Board. She is committed to a town that is connected and walkable and has a variety of amenities for residents, including a robust Parks and Recreation system and a thriving downtown.

Meet Your Council

Joshua Simelton was raised in South Charlotte and spent plenty of time in Pineville growing up. He attended both South Meck and Providence during high school, and graduated from UNC Charlotte with a degree in Communications. His family moved to Pineville in 2021 and instantly fell in love with community. Joshua has a robust professional background that includes experience in public relations, media and digital marketing. He's committed to ensuring the healthy growth of Pineville, while improving walkability, transportation, traffic and safety. When he's not taking his kids to various practices or spending time with his dogs Daisy and Teddy, he likes rooting for his favorite sports teams and trying out new restaurants with his wife.

After graduating from UNC- Chapel Hill in 2000, Danielle Moore moved to Charlotte, NC. Danielle has lived in Pineville for over 14 years, and she was elected to the Town Council in November 2023.

Danielle ran for Town Council because she wants to be a part of progress in Pineville: walkability, increasing dining, shopping, and residential housing options. Prior to joining the Town Council, she served as VP of her neighborhood's HOA. She is currently employed as a Manager with Lincoln Financial. During her spare time, she enjoys traveling, gardening, experiencing new cuisines, and exercising on the Sugar Creek Greenway.
